Annual Retreat Update

As mentioned in June's issue of the newsletter, we are distributing the URL that links to the Faculty Development website for highlights from the Faculty Retreat, as well as the relevant articles. We will send a follow-up email of the videos from the retreat as soon as they become available to us. If you were unable to attend the retreat, this will be a good tool to catch up on what was missed. Young-Joo Lee, Senior Clinical Librarian at the Louis Stokes Health Sciences Library has developed a webpage containing all of the retreat presentations and relevant articles.

Educational Scholarship funding available for Harvard Macy Program for Educators in Health Professions

What: Residential Program for Educators in Health Professions <http://www.harvardmacy.org>

Why: Advances in the science of learning require health care educators to develop and practice new teaching skills consistent with the current knowledge of experiential learning theory. The goal of this Harvard Macy Institute Program is to provide a select group of participants with the knowledge base and skills to enhance their expertise in both conducting an educational project of their own design and taking a leadership role in the educational activities at their institutions.

How: As part of the formal application to the program the applicant must submit a project proposal. Some examples of projects are: designing and teaching a new or revised course/clerkship or residency rotation; creating a faculty development program; introducing or enhancing professional rewards for healthcare educators; integrating technological advances with curriculum design.

When: Course is held January 7-17 and May 14-18, 2018

Application Deadline: September 8, 2017

Where: Residential program Harvard, Boston, MA

Who: Any full time faculty member interested in being an educational leader for the institution is eligible to apply. If interested please get the support from your Chair and submit your name to Swati Goel at the Office of Faculty Development swati.goel@howard.edu. If successfully accepted into the program all program expenses will be covered.
